The text adventure says:

A thick fog fills the room, along with the heady scent of burning incense. Through the haze, you can make out a rickety table, and on it some half-filled teacups, a crystal ball, and a rather worn deck of cards. "Welcome," a voice within murmurs. "I've been expecting you."

Each phrase clues a word which is related to the name of a Tarot Card (in Major Arcana). The number of the card indicates how far into each clue phrase to index. Sort the clues by card number and index into them to get the solution FORTUNE COOKIE.
